

You can name every crisis. You still can't start the dishes.

The analysis was never the problem. The gap between seeing it clearly and being able to act has a name — and a way across.

WHAT THIS IS

A 36-week rite of passage from Liminal Creep to Whole Adept — ten human capacities brought online one at a time, scaffolded so the stack never outruns the energy you actually have.

- One new habit every three weeks. That is the entire ask
- From insight to action, from alienation to belonging
- Built to hand you back to your own town with something to offer
